

Role of Water and Natural Cleaning Chemistry

The picture below shows the importance of adding chemistry (surfactants) to water. Water alone creates individual drops which do not penetrate the cracks/crevasses and it does not encompass the "Dirt." When surfactants are added; it binds with the water to penetrate and encompass the "Dirt", for a more effective cleaning

Water Only:

Beads Form

Water Plus Surfactant:

Wetted Surface